

NEW YORK

art

Larry Bell...Gerome Kamrowski...Chris Doyle

Installation The Artist's Gild

Chris Doyle's Commutable (a project commissioned by the Public Art Fund) makes walking—and cycling—from Manhattan to Brooklyn a richer experience. The gold leaf he's applied to the steps of the Williamsburg Bridge's Manhattan entranceway will eventually be worn off by foot and bicycle traffic—but for the moment, at least, commuting seems a bit less pedestrian.